

We were so young then, we were just children
Isn't it strange when moments come back to you?
We were so carefree, innocent and happy
I wish that I could be

Back there on Redbank Avenue with you
On Redbank Avenue with you
On Redbank Avenue with you

We used to be so sweet, life was so complete
Playing out on the street and doing what we wanted to
But the scars on our knees and the good times it seems these
Are only memories

Of Redbank Avenue with you
Of Redbank Avenue with you
Redbank Avenue with you

Days full of laughter, nothing else mattered
And we never had to worry about a thing
Watching the sunset, promising we'd never forget
But something's missing

On Redbank Avenue
Redbank Avenue
Redbank Avenue

Then one day you moved away, it got too hard for us to try
It's been so long since I've seen you, so much time has passed by
But I'll always remember where we took in that view
And shared part of our lives

On Redbank Avenue with you
On Redbank Avenue with you
Redbank Avenue with you
