

Summer rolls around and you're still causing trouble
Sometimes I forget the world revolves around you
You're telling tall stories, missing pieces of the puzzle
And now you're crying because nobody believes it's true

And you dare to tell me I'm to blame
You start to hurl abuse and you say I have no shame
But you're the victim here, well, this is what you claim
Well I've got news for you, I won't take part in your game

Don't come crying to me, I know you're lying to me
Don't come crying to me 'cause I don't care, I don't care

So you think that it's okay to fight fire with fire
So caught up in your delusions you can't see the wood for the trees
I never said a word but somehow that makes me a liar
When you know, you know, you know all this has nothing to do with me

And you dare to try and put me down
You can't just let it go so you follow us around
Now we all call you crazy 'cause this is what we've found
If you had taken my advice, this would have all been over now

So don't come crying to me, I know you're lying to me
Don't come crying to me, 'cause I don't care, I don't care

Well she's certainly one of a kind
It's a shame that her conscious is blind

So don't come crying to me, I know you're lying to me
Don't come crying to me, 'cause I don't care, I don't care

So don't come crying to me when I know you're lying to me, yeah
Don't you try it with me, 'cause I don't care, I don't care
